

Artist's CV and Biography

Erika Larskaya is an abstract artist who employs variety of techniques creating unusual and dramatic textures and effects. She often uses newspaper and hand-painted paper collage, natural and non-traditional materials such as eggshells, sand, grass, household paint and a heat gun. With a background in interior design, she has spent years experimenting with painting techniques, independently and through classes. She is deeply inspired and fascinated by surrounding nature and natural land formations and colors.
