Robert E. O'Brien - Painter

Artist's Statement

My painting starts with drawing. I draw from life continuously. Frequently during the course of a painting I return to drawing to find the form. I consider myself a painter on the bridge between abstraction and realism and the question: What is a painting? - is frequently on my mind.

My goals are to synthesize Titian and Cezanne, to attract a few good students, and to accumulate the 600 guilders "dues" required for admittance as a master in the local Guild of St. Luke.
