ABOUT THE MILE OF MURALS

The Mile of Murals is a community-based public art initiative in the Rogers Park neighborhood of Chicago, located on the far north side of the city. The project is sponsored by the Rogers Park Business Alliance and the Clark/Morse/Glenwood Special Service Area #24 (SSA#24), and managed by artists Dustin Harris and Lea Pinsky. The project began in 2007 with the intention to support, promote, and beautify the burgeoning Glenwood Avenue Arts District.

Our ten-year project goal is to paint a full mile of murals along the CTA Red Line embankment walls from Estes Avenue to Pratt Boulevard. The project will result in 19 large-scale murals: ten block-long walls, seven viaduct walls, and two overpasses, totaling over 14,000 square feet of painted walls.

New artists and themes are selected annually through a rigorous selection process juried by arts professionals and community leaders. To date, the project has commissioned works from 22 artists from Chicago to around the country and globe. A full portfolio of past projects and information about annual calls for artists can be found at www.mileofmurals.com.
