

"Define Me - In a 1000 words or more"

an installation created by Stacy Gibboni

1470 words to define in the Gallery at Old Stone Church
Bring a dictionary, the bound kind.

The Gallery at Old Stone installation consists of 1470 oil pastel on archival paper drawings selected from the 5000 images which make up the "Define Me" project. Each image measures 21 x 14.8 cm / 8.2" x 5.8". They are attached to the wall with a system of magnets.

It is my greatest hope that this work will slow you down for a moment. That you will be inspired to reflect upon the colors and words on the wall. That you will allow free association to wash over you. That perhaps you will recall a lost word or be introduced to a new one. Be reminded dear viewer of the power and value of the words we use. - Stacy Gibboni in the studio - Venice, Italy, July 2014
